With the arrival of the afternoon trail

terday the crowds grew larger, and the cries of side-show people were energetic and hopeful. The rumble of the frequent coach was heard along he roads. The "smart set" was perhaps not so umerous as heretofore, but later, when the weather ook back its not too gentle hints of bleakness and cyclones, abundant sunshine made the scene attractive than ever. The police continued their vigilance in ferreting out would-be fakirs, and told you with a bit of estentation how some shellmen" had been run off the grounds and lodged the White Plains lockup. Another story was of a daring thief who had snatched a roll of bills a an old gentleman about very properly to pay his ticket to the races. A righteous crowd tave chase, and the pickpocket was taken to compare notes with the shelimen. But all this did not prevent a certain whirling red and black machine rishing visibly behind the grandstand. One renturous damosel from the coaches looked on with her escort, and then put a quarter on the black, "just for the fun of the thing, you know, as one does at Monte Carlo." The bystanders stared at her in bucolic amazement. Perhaps they envied

In the horse show prizes were awarded Briarcliff and Roxton farms for first and second in the best hauling contests for farm teams, and in the reverse order for ploughing teams. G. W. Campbell's Minnie got first prize in the class for filles between three and four years, with W. H. Tailer's Avelina second. The two-year-old filles were judged: W. H. Dickerman's Portrait first, and J. C. De La Vergne's Linde Rose second. For a pair roadsters, either sex, J. Dickman Brown carried off first with Carrie M. and Nepia; W. H. Tailer's Will Florence and Chance were second. To Prescott Lawrence's superb black stallon Fashlon, with three of his get, were awarded a first, and George Green's Rufus and his progeny got second in the same class. In class 2:25, for hackney stallion, mare or gelding, over 18.2 hands, the order was: Dickman Brown's Darb and G. B. Huime's Superia. The best pair of horses suitable for a woman (class 25) was adjudged to be Louis Stern's Hermit and Chester; second, Miss Benedlet's Puck and Paris. For high-steppers under fifteen hands, E. M. Fulton, fr.'s, Maxpie was the lucky one, with Mrs. Marion Story's imp. Laily Elsie second.

Richard F. Carman took the prize for best tandem driving, and there was a fie for second between Mrs. Thomas Maitland and Charles S. Bates, fr. Mrs. Maitland knocked down more posts, but also took more difficult turns than Mr. Bates. The best "single depot rig" was voted to be W. R. H. Martin's, because his was the only vehicle competing that had a place for luggage. For a park team and coach Thomas A. Maitland's was the only entry. The jumping class went to Mr. Hartman's Hungry Jim, ridden by Robert Potter, and second to the chesticut gelding Westchester, of the Westchester Hunt Club. The spectators mostly stayed for the excitement of the Jumps, and it was after dusk when the horn of the last departing coach sent its echo

The social element of the island was largely represented, and tally-ho coaches, tandems and carriage parties were numerous. The acted as starting judge at the meeting. It is the first time that a professional starter has been at the fairs of this association, and it has proved an advance in the right direction. To-day will be the last of the fair, and another big crowd is expected. The racing yesterday was good. Frederick Burgis's team, Stonebridge and Little Sport, trotted against the track record of 2:33 for a purse of $40. They beat the record in the first heat, making the mile without a skip in 2:31%. For foals of 1883, Charles Wolf, of Sea Cliff, received first prize for his cold Minnie W., H. M. Willis, of East Williston, getting second prize for his cold Decoration.

He was arraigned in the Tombs Police Court yester-He was arraigned in the Tombs Police Court yester-day morning nd remanded until to-day. On May 5 Inspector McLaugh'dn received a com-munication from Chief of Police Deutsch, of Cincinnati, stating that a man named James Camp had presented himself to the paying teller of the National Lafayette Bank, of that city, on April 28, with a check for $1,200, purporting to be signed by A. Senior & Son, a Cincinporting to be signed by A. Senior & Son, a Cincinnati firm. The check was payable to James Camp, and identification was waived by the firm's indorsement on the back of the check. The money was paid, and then the check was found to be worthless. The Cincinnati police forwarded Camp's description, and Inspector McLaughlin sent on the pictures in the Rogues' Galiery which answered this description. The picture of Davis was readily identified as that of Camp.

The detectives then searched this city for him, and found him on Thursday night. He will be taken back to Cincinnati. He is also wanted in Detroit and other cities. Davis is an ex-convict. He was arrested in this city November 22, 1883, for forging a check for $400, drawn on Harris & Co. The complaint was made by Howes & Co., of Wallst. He pleaded guilty in General Sessions, and was sentenced to six years in State Prison. His term expired on February 5, 1888. The prisoner is a clever forger. A confederate named "Bob" Bowlman was arrested in Atlantic, Iowa, on April 36, for paising a draft from $16 to $1,600.

WITH WINDING OF HORNS. A NEW ORDER OF EPISCOPAL MONES.

IT WILL BE INSTITUTED TO-DAY BY BISHOP POT TER, WHEN RUSSELL WHITCOMB, THE

FOUNDER, WILL TAKE THE VOWS. A new celibate order of laymen in the Protestant Episcopal Church will be instituted to-day at St. Chrysostom's Chapel, at Seventh-ave. and Thirtyseventh-st., by Bishop Potter. The order will be called the Community of the Brothers of the Church and has been founded by Russell Whitcomb, recently a student in the General Theological Seminary, with the approval of the Bishop and the clergy. The peculiar service, known as the "service for the profession of a brother," will begin at 11 o'clock this morning, when Mr. Whitcomb will take the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience and will become Brother Hugh, the head of the new community of monastic laymen.

Work among the poor will be the main purpose in the life of the Brothers of the Church. Their work will be largely among the children in the Sundayschools and in their homes. Work among the children will be supplemented by a systematic attempt to elevate the character of the young men in the district by means of reading-rooms, lectures, entertainments and religious meetings. The house of the new community is situated at No. 371 West Thirty-fifth-st. The basement will be used for the kitchen and dining-room, the latter apartment being turned into a night school for boys. The parlor floor will be devoted to the purposes of a reading-room and hall for entertainments. On the floor bove the library and private chapel of the community are situated. In the chapel, which is a small rear room, the daily communion will be celebrated. The third floor has been cut up into six tiny sleeping rooms for the use of the members of the order. The Brothers of the Church will be distinguished by a plain habit, consisting of a long brown cassock, with a black cross on the breast, and bound at the waist with a black girdle. For the street, the costume will be of the same brown material, only the cassock will be much shorter, reaching to the knees, in order to make the garb less conspicuous. Over the cassock an overcoat, with a cross embroidered in black on the right arm, will be worn. According to the rules of the order, the postulant takes the vows for five years, to be renewed each succeeding year. The manner of life in the community will be of sufficient severity and austerily to meet the requirements, and the food will be of the simplest kind. Russell Whitcomb, the founder of the order, was born in Boston twenty-nine years ago, and was a member of the Church of the Advent, in that city. Later he went to Oxford University, England, and returned to America to take up the study of law in the office of his uncle, but was forced to give up his legal studies on account of trouble with his eyes. He then returned to devote himself to the work of the Church ied him to enter the General Theological Seminary to fit himself for the ministry. Hecoming convinced, however, that he could accomplish more good as a layman, he decided to establish the community of the Brothers of the Church. The Brothers of the Church is the second menastic order of laymen attached to the Episcopal communion, the other being the Order of the Brothers of Nazareth, which was founded in 1886.

PRISON SUNDAY COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Prison Sunday Committee of the Prison Association of New-York met in the library of the association, No. 135 East Fifteenth-st., yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Arthur Brooks, the chairman of the committee, presided. Among those present were the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, of "The Christian Advocate"; the Rev. Dr. Huntington, of Grace Church, and Professor Charlton T. Lewis. The president of the association, Professor Lewis, and the corresponding secretary each made a statethe corresponding secretary each made a state-ment of the special needs in the prison reform movement. The last Sunday in October was fixed upon as "Prison Sunday." This is in accordance with custom, and the date decided upon by the National Prison Association of the United States, in view of the practical abolition of labor in prisons, as contemplated in the amendment to the Constitution, the day is of unusual importance in this State. The Prison Association offers to fur-nish information on all prison matters, and prof-fers the use of its library to clergymen who de-sire to make special preparation for Prison Sun-day.

A CORPORATION CHANGED TO A FIRM.

Application was made yesterday to Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, for the voluntary dissolution of the Jennings Lace Works corporation, whose offices are at No. 77 Greene-st. Brooklyn, because the company sold its entire plant and assets about August 1 to Abraham G. and Albert G. Jennings, who continue the business and Albert G. Jennings, who continue the business as a firm under the same style, the Jennings Lace Works. They virtually owned the company, which was formed in 1888, with a capital stock of $100,000, all of which except $200 was owned by the Jennings family. The company succeeded A. G. Jennings & Sons, and the business has now returned to the firm again, and the application for a dissolution of the corporation is merely a formal legal matter. Albert G. Jennings is engaged to marry a daughter of John D. Crimmins, the well-known contractor and politician.

OIL PAINTINGS UNDER THE HAMMER.

The second and final day's sale of the oil paintings from the collections of R. L. Patterson of Brooklyn, and G. M. Wilcox, of this city, took place yesterday afternoon at the Silo Art Galleries, the opening day, and the prices were considerably better. The facilities offered for the display and sale of choice paintings at the Silo Galleries are excellent. About fifty paintings were sold yesterday, comprising among them the works of a number of well-known artists. Some of the works sold were: "Scene in Venice." Warren Shepherd; "Landscape and Cattle," Emil A. Prinz; "Visit to the Prophet," R. Ernst, Paris; "Old Musician," attributed to Knaus, Dusseldorf; "Winter in Norway," J. Stade-man, Antwerp; "Near Blair Athol," by William Hart; "Kitchen Interior," unknown, and "Inno-cence," attributed to Greuze.

PLANS FOR A NEW REGIMENTAL ARMORY. The Armory Board has advertised for bids for the construction of the proposed new armory for the 5th Regiment. The bids will be opened in the Mayor's office at noon on October 10, and as soon as the contract is awarded the successful bidder will be ordered to start work. The cornerstone will, it is expected, be laid before the end of the The regiment's new armory will be built on fair of the Queens County Agricultural Society at a site the easterly side of which extends to within 175 feet of the west side of Sixth-ave. The cost of the building will be increased about $20,000 by a recent act of the Legislature which declares that all stone used on public buildings in the State shall be cut and dressed on the ground. Formerly the granite used in the construction of armories was dressed at the quarries. The wages paid to stonecutters outside of the city are much lower than the wages paid in the city.

Another member of the Twenty-fifth-st. gang, which assaulted Policeman Bischoff on Thursday afternoon, was brought into the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning by Officer McConville, of the Sixteenth Precinct. The prisoner was John Cleary, of No. 502 West Twenty-sixth-st. He was arrested for assaulting Charles Sands, of No. 531 West Twenty-sixth-at., with a balestick. He was remanded until to-morrow. The assault occurred last Wednesday evening. Sands was taken curred last Wednesday evening. Sands was taken home, where he was attended by Dr. Reich, of No. 341 West Twenty-third-st. Dr. Reich, reported yestenday that Sands was in a dangerous condition. He bled from the nose, eyes and ears. Last night he was expected to die at any moment.

The Coroner was called to the New-York Hospital late yesterday afternoon to take Sands's antemortem statement.

THE HERMIT INDICTED FOR MURDER. Thomas S. Burke, the old South Beach hermit who is locked up in the county fall at Richmone charged with shooting and killing his son-in-law Frederick Bergman, on August 15, while the latte was entering a room in the hut, where old Burke was engaged setting a trap with a shotgon, was yesterday indicted by the Richmond County Grand Jury for marder in the first degree. When the aged, white-haired prisoner was arraigned before Justice Cullen, he pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for trial on October 29.

THREE STREET CARS COME TOGETHER.

Cable car No. 232, of the Third-ave. line, smashed into horse car No. 33, of the East Broadway line. o'clock. The East Broadway car was standing still start. The force of the collision was so great a to cause the whole three cars to crash together breaking the glass in the front door of car No. 23. The passengers in this car, some of whom were women, were pande-stricken. They rushed to the front platform as the driver swing his horses out of danger into the street. The dashboards of all the cars were bent out of shape. After a delay of ten minutes the cars proceeded downtown.

When it comes to laying up something for a rainy day, what's the matter with one of our $3.00 or $5.00 Umbrellas? We have an idea you're paying a dollar more for like value.

It's quite likely you're paying too much for Mackintoshes, too; they are generally sold for a fancy price; at least we judge so from the talk of cus-

We don't want to brag, but we conscientiously believe we're offering the best little boy's school suit for $5.00 that was ever shown in the two cities. We'd like your judgment on them. Smith Gray & Co.'s. monthly for Oct. is out.
